A third solo exhibition at Thompson's from acclaimed Scottish painter, Mhairi McGregor, introducing a fresh body of work inspired by a road trip out of Chicago and around the American Midwest in April 2022.

A longstanding interest in buildings within a landscape, is a recurring theme in much of Mhairi McGregor's work. Often single, isolated structures, rising out of a flat landscape.

Seeking new inspiration, the American Midwest had everything Mhairi was looking for. The contrast between the natural and the man-made, the change that people have made to the skyline for their own, different purposes - to house crops and animals, to warn ships, or for worship.
